Blinding Flashes Through Windows of Norman Castle on Long Island Will Be Softened.

Out on Long Island Sound about 200 yards from Sands Point light, under the windows of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's magnificent Norman castle, on the bluff, has risen an island of broken stone. It has been built by the United States as the foundation for a new light house in the place of the one which has been a constant cause of friction between Mrs. Belmont, the Government, the Town of North Hempstead and Sound shipping men for years.

The Government is to build an automatic flashing light on the foundation. It is at the end of a dangerous reef jutting out from Sands Point into the Sound and will protect shipping from further disaster caused by going in too close to the old light. Superintendent Yates of the light-house service in this district said Mrs. Belmont had nothing to do with the change though he assumed it would cause her great satisfaction, softening the rays of the blinding light on the water side of the house by distance.

"When the new foundation is completed," said Mr. Yates, "and the new automatic light has been installed, the present light-house reservation under Mrs. Belmont's place will be sold at auction to the highest bidder—and if Mrs. Belmont bids high enough, she will be able to add it to her property."

DENIES "SICK RESTLESS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE"

In an address to Episcopal clergymen Friday last, Dr. Edward P. Chow, who plans to establish a hospital, which clergymen and physicians can cooperate, said that Christian Science is a failure. He said the sick are now as numerous in Christian Science as in their former churches, and that the paper is filled daily with names of Christian Scientists, depicting the "Crisis" yesterday, Charles E. Hartman of the Christian Science Convention on Wednesday assured Dr. Chow, "There was no case for his practice, and that he could easily determine this for himself by attending to the cases of the sick, who are as numerous in the Christian Science churches as in the churches in Greater New York."

"The movement is today growing more rapidly than at any time in its history," said Mr. Chow. "I do not doubt that I may say that in the Christian Science, I am sure can be expected for the future, the methods of Jesus to those of our critics."

Corns Go

Just say "Blue-jay" to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear fluid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. The action is the same.
